Let us shun the boastful words of the Pharisee and learn from the Publican humility with sighing: let us cry out to our Savior. “Have mercy on us. You who alone are merciful.”

EPISTLE:

Hebrews 7:26-28; 8:1-2

Brethren, it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, undefiled (Cf. Lv. 16:6), set apart from sinners, and become Highter than the heavens. He does not need to offer sacrifices daily (as the other priests did), first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people; for this latter he did once for all in offering up himself. For the Law appoints as priests' men who are week; but the word of the oath, which came after the Law, appoints a Son who is forever perfect. Now the main point in what we are saying is this: we have such a high priest who has taken his seat at the right hand of the throne of majesty in the heavens, a minister of the Holies and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord has set up and not man.

ALLELUIA: Ps. 19:1; 27:9

Tone

The mouth of the just yields wisdom, but the perverse tongue will be cut off.

The law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not falter.

GOSPEL:

St. Luke 18:10-14

The Lord told this parable: “Two men went up to the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and began to pray thus within himself: ‘O God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of men, robbers, dishonest, adulterers, or even like this publican. I fast twice a week; I pay tithes of all I possess.’ But the publican, standing far off, would not so much as lift up his eyes to heaven, but kept striking his breast, saying, ‘O God, be merciful to me a sinner!’ I tell you; this man went back to his home justified rather than the other; for anyone who exalts himself shall be humbled, and anyone who humbles himself shall be exalted
